Award-winning choir in concert

Windham Chamber Singers have captured the hearts of audiences from Carnegie Hall to the White House to small towns throughout the Northeastern United States with music ranging from sacred a-cappella to Queen's iconic rock sound.

As part of their Atlantic Canada Tour, the Windham Chamber Singers will appear in concert in Charlottetown at Trinity United Church. The choir first gained international attention in 1996 when they won the Prize of Vienna, the highest award of the International Youth Music Festival in Vienna, Austria.

This year marks their 12th tour of Canada, and is the first time they will have appeared in Charlottetown, PEI.
